

Amy Klein

Amy Klein, a senior at the Montclair Kimberley Academy, plans to study the humanities at Harvard University this fall. She has served as Editor in Chief of her high school newspaper The Academy News and as president of the Alliance Française. During her high school years, she has been honored as a faculty scholar, Avery Barras Distinguished Scholar, Bloustein Distinguished Scholar, Brogan Memorial Scholar, and as a recipient of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Medal. A National Merit Finalist, she has also received state and national recognition in the National French Contest. Amy has been a member of the field hockey, swimming, and track teams. In her spare time, she plays the piano, violin, and electric guitar in classical ensembles and rock bands.